Police continue to be made aware of scams over the internet and on your mobile devices. Please stay vigilant and if in doubt delete the email/text etc and/or report to Norfolk Trading Standards or email Report@phishing.gov.uk.

With the darker nights now with us please be vigilant around your vehicle and home security. It is worth getting in to a routine of checking all doors and windows are shut and locked and any outbuildings you have are secure with locks on them. If you see or hear anything suspicious please report this to us on 101 (999 in an emergency) or you can report online to us using our website.

WHAT'S HAPPENING IN YOUR AREA?

This month my high visibility patrols have included visits to many of the local primary schools to monitor parking and engage with the children, parents and staff, as well as neighbours and other locals. You may have seen me to say hello and have taken on board any feedback you have provided.

I have continued to tackle speeding motorists across your communities, assisted by my Special Constabulary colleagues.

As always, please report anything suspicious to me or the police in general, as your information could be vital in solving crimes and nuisance behaviour. Halloween and bonfire night will be very different this year, but we will still be providing a strong police presence to help prevent any ASB.
